Letter from the Executive Director

Rodney Oien

Executive Director of Northcoast Children's Services

I am pleased to share with you the NCS 2023-24 program year's annual report.

During this past program year, we continued to rebuild from the effects of the pandemic. One major focus has been on providing improved support for our staff. This has included increased mental health consultation, coaching and supporting staff in their continuing education.

As the expansion of transitional kindergarten continues, we saw our preschool classrooms switch from majority 4-year-olds to majority 3-year-olds. This year we began planning for the impacts of this and are working to increase our capacity to serve more children under three years of age in our center-based programs.

While the number of families we serve has declined over the past few years, the support our staff provide for families and their children continues to inspire me. I see such dedication and commitment from our teachers, home visitors and support staff. These individuals have positively impacted the lives of over 600 children this past program year.

I also want to take a little space to honor two individuals who spent many years devoted to the work of NCS and were foundational in making it the great program it is today. On July 24, 2024 Siddiq Kilkenny, our past Head Start Director passed away and February 10, 2025 our past Executive Director, Kathy Montagne, passed away. These two individuals touched the lives of many families and staff over the past 4 decades. They were both inspirations in our community and leaders in their field. While their passing saddens me, I look to their work as examples of what to strive for. You both will be missed by many.

STATE & FEDERAL MONITORING REVIEW RESULTS

As a program funded primarily through federal and state dollars, NCS is subject to regular monitoring reviews to ensure compliance with program requirements and proper expenditure of public funds. Below are the summaries of the most recent reviews of NCS operations conducted by our funders.

Risk Assessment Notification Review

Our last federal monitoring Review was a Risk Assessment Review known as a RAN review. This review took place in June of 2024 and was initiated because of reports we made to California Community Care Licensing and the Office of Head Start. The review resulted in a deficiency finding. The deficiency was the result of two staff members using inappropriate and unacceptable discipline methods with children at 2 separate locations within a few months of one another. As a result of these incidents, we made some changes to our training, monitoring and support given to classroom staff. During the week of February 3, 2025, we had a follow up review with the Office of Head Start. During that review they determined we have corrected the deficiency and implemented changes to ensure staff clearly understand our standards of conduct and have improved monitoring activities to ensure future incidents do not occur.

California Department of Education (CDE)

The CDE conducted a contract monitoring review from May 10-14, 2021 and all items reviewed met state requirements. The review assessed NCS compliance with governance & administration, parent involvement, standards, assessment & accountability, staffing & professional development, opportunity & equal educational access, and teaching & learning. NCS was found to be in compliance in all areas.

California Adult & Childcare Food Program (CACFP)

The last CACFP review was conducted in January 2024 and assessed Financial Viability, Administrative Capability, and Program Accountability. There were two minor findings that were not in compliance with performance standard areas. The first was a meal count error of one overcounted snack in October. The Food Program Manager updated policies and procedures, and all staff were trained in point of service meal counts to address this finding. The other was a fiscal accountability finding. NCS was notified of an indirect rate change after the start of the CACFP fiscal year and in the same month of the review. More time was needed to implement this indirect rate change before the review. The rate was corrected immediately after. All other areas were in compliance. The Food Program Manager and staff ensure that the NCS children are provided healthy and nutritious foods for all meals served.
